

ANTONY GORMLEY

INSTALLATION OF PLACES TO BE, PETERBOROUGH

On the 25th of May 2018, Antony Gormley's first public commission, Places to Be, was re-sited thirty years after the three sculptures were first installed at the Peterborough rowing lake. Placed on the rooftops of Queensgate, Leeds Building Society, and Norwich Building Society, the life-sized lead body cases found their home within the Peterborough City Centre skyline.
